Views, seclusion and eco-tourism potential - all within an hour of Brisbane

Your own private hilltop makes the perfect backdrop to relax and enjoy the twinkling lights of nearby Boonah township by night, take in a sunset over the great Dividing Range or enjoy watching the morning mist cradle mountain tops as far as the eye can see to the east and north.

This magical 160 acres of elevated sweet scrub country is the ideal blend of lifestyle and quality grazing. Build your own new home, live in the existing artistic quarters or even use it as a stunning weekender to escape to the country and possibly build later.

Already onsite are two accommodation spaces. The main building is an architecturally inspired, 20 x 9m steel space, with an additional generous verandah. A feature brick wall divides a large storage section from a simple but playful light-filled living area, which blends inside with out through clever use of large pivot windows and other generous openings
